Elected President Over Henderson and Young.

GEOGHEGAN VICE PRESIDENT

CONTRACT FOR EIGHTEENTH WARD SCHOOL HOUSE IS LET.

Arnold G. Giauque was last evening elected president of the new board of Education, and the honors of vice presinent were bestowed upon Joseph Geo-ghegan. Judge H. P. Henderson, B. S. Young and former President W. J. Newman, were also placed in nomination for the presidency, but the two latter withdrew their names, leaving the contest between Giauque and Henderson. When the result of the ballot was announced, it was found that one vote had been cast for Mr. Young over his protest, three for Henderson and six for Mr. Giauque.

The election of Vice President Geo-ghegan was without opposition.
The line-up on president was as fol-

The Mormon members of the board, with Professor Byron Cummings, who was elected with the aid of the church, were solid for Glaucue. The latter's candidacy was something of a surprise to most of the men who did not vote for him, as was the determination of Mr. Young to withdraw. Mr. Geoghegan, who remained loyal to Mr. Young throughout, did not know of the latter's intention to withdraw until last night. intention to withdraw until last night.

Every member of the old and new board was present, with the exception of Simon Bamberger, vice president of the former board, who was out of the city. Before the old board was dissolved. They in turn said a few complimentary things to their old associates, and then introduced their successors. It fell to Mr. Nelden to introduce Judge Henderson on account of the absence of Mr. Bamberger

Messrs. Critchlow and Walker paid Messrs. Critchlow and Walker paid their respects to their fellow members. While they regretted their departure from the board, they felt called upon to congratulate their colleagues upon the induction of such worthy men as Judge H. P. Henderson, Byron Cummings and M. J. Cheesman, who will succeed them.

After Mr. Critchlow concluded his romarks he introduced his successor, By-ron Cummings. Mr. Walker then pre-sented M. J. Cheesman. In the ab-sence of Simon Bamberger, Mr. Nelden introduced Judge Henderson, saying he was glad to be able to welcome the former member back into the board.

Judge Henderson said it is a peculiarly sacred trust to be a member of the school board, as each member his grandchildren have grown gray-

MISS TERESA MAXWELL.

A luncheon with many original features was given yesterday by Mrs. and Miss Neill in honor of Miss Teresa Maxwell of the Ward & James company. The guests were seated at two large tables, the places being so arranged that each woman could face the guest of honor. The table decorations were artistic, a flat bed of ferns outlined with yellow carnations forming a centerpiece for each table, Doylies of exquisite lace were at each place, and besides place cards each guest by the place and besides place cards each guest was, given a Japanese stick pin. Young Daughter Hears Evidence Against Her Father.

THE CHARGE IS CHANGED

DOCTOR NOW ACCUSED OF MUR-DER IN SECOND DEGREE.

In company with his wife, 5-year-old daughter and mother-in-law, Mrs. Hunt, and his attorney, W. F. Wanless, Dr. E. S. Payne, accused of being responsible for the death of Miss Annie D. Hill, appeared in the city court yesterday and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree. The charge of murder in the first degree was changed yesterday by County Attorney Westervelt to that of murder in the second.

The accused man is haggard and nervous as a result of the confinement and terrific strain under which he has labored since his arrest. His cheeks are ashen pale and his eyes arread vertlessit, around the word durroved restlessly around the room dur-ing the course of the hearing. He was an intense listener, however; devour-ing every word of the attorneys and the court. Once, when County Physician Mayo, who was testifying, was examining his case of surgical instruments, he sprang eagerly from his seat and rushed quickly to the witness. He stood there quietly and a look of con-tempt stole over his features as Dr. Mayo remarked about the danger of

The little girl, never dreaming of the enormity of the charge against her father, laughed joyfully at times and pulled at the man's mustache. Then she ran scurrying through the room and prattled with any stranger who would talk.
